

Business Plan — UK Edition

Prepared: 11 June 2026

1. Executive Summary

YT Transcriber is a UK-based SaaS web application that automatically fetches transcripts from YouTube videos, groups them into timestamped sentences, captures screenshots of any URLs mentioned, and exports everything as a structured Word document and ZIP archive. It is aimed at content creators, researchers, students, journalists, and productivity-focused professionals who regularly consume and reference YouTube content.

The service will operate on a subscription model via Clerk (auth + billing) and Stripe (payments), with a free trial of 3 videos followed by paid monthly tiers. The business will be registered as a UK Limited Company, fully compliant with UK GDPR, ICO requirements, and HMRC tax obligations.

Business name	YT Transcriber Ltd (proposed)
Business type	UK Private Limited Company (Ltd)
Business model	B2C SaaS — monthly subscription + free trial
Target market	Content creators, researchers, students, journalists
Primary revenue	Subscription tiers (£7–£45/mo)
Launch approach	Soft launch / public beta via website
Break-even est.	~2 paying subscribers (low fixed costs)
Year 1 target	100 paying subscribers

2. Business Structure

Recommended structure: UK Private Limited Company (Ltd)

A Ltd company is recommended over sole trader for a SaaS product. It limits personal liability, is more credible to customers and payment processors, and is more tax-efficient once profits grow.

Item	Est. Cost	Notes
Register at Companies House	£50 one-off online	Takes ~24 hours. Required before opening business bank account.
Registered UK address	~£5–15/mo	Virtual office address keeps your home address off the public register.
Business bank account	Free – £10/mo	Tide, Monzo Business, or Starling. Required for Ltd company.
Accountant	~£50–150/mo	Not legally required but strongly recommended for Ltd companies.
Bookkeeping software	~£12–30/mo	Xero, FreeAgent, or QuickBooks. Required for Making Tax Digital (MTD).

3. UK Tax & Finance

Corporation Tax

As a Ltd company, YT Transcriber will pay Corporation Tax on profits. Rates as of 2024/25:

Profit band	Rate	Notes
Up to £50,000 profit	19%	Small profits rate
£50,001 – £250,000 profit	Marginal relief	Tapered between 19% and 25%
Over £250,000 profit	25%	Main rate

VAT

Item	Rate / Threshold	Notes
Registration threshold	£90,000/year turnover	Mandatory registration above this. Voluntary registration below it is possible.
Standard rate	20%	Applies to UK B2C digital subscription sales.
Digital services — EU	Local VAT rates	Post-Brexit: must register for VAT OSS or in each EU country if selling to EU consumers.
VAT returns	Quarterly	Submitted digitally via Making Tax Digital (MTD) compatible software.

Other Financial Obligations

- Making Tax Digital (MTD) — HMRC requires all Ltd companies to keep digital records and submit returns via MTD-compatible software (Xero, FreeAgent, QuickBooks).
- Annual accounts — Filed with Companies House and HMRC each year. Micro-entity accounts are simplified if turnover is under £632k.
- Confirmation statement — Annual filing with Companies House confirming company details. £34/year.
- PAYE — Required if you pay yourself a salary through the company. Payroll software needed (many free options available).

- Dividends — Can be taken as dividends from profits above salary, taxed at dividend rates (lower than income tax). Requires a profitable company.

4. Legal & Compliance

UK GDPR & Data Protection

YT Transcriber collects and processes personal data (user email addresses, video history, notes, and usage data). This triggers obligations under the UK GDPR (post-Brexit version of GDPR) and the Data Protection Act 2018.

Requirement	Cost	Notes
ICO Registration	~£40–60/year	Required for any business processing personal data. Register at ico.org.uk .
Privacy Policy	Free to draft	Must explain what data is collected, why, how long it is kept, and user rights.
Data Processing Agreement	Free	Required with Clerk, Stripe, and any other processor handling user data.
Lawful basis for processing	N/A	Subscription = contractual necessity. Marketing = consent. Must be documented.
Right to erasure	N/A	Users can request deletion of their account and all associated data.
Data breach procedure	N/A	Must notify ICO within 72 hours of a breach affecting personal data.

Required Legal Documents

Document	Key Requirements
Terms of Service	Subscriptions, refunds, acceptable use, account termination, liability limits.
Privacy Policy	UK GDPR compliant. What data is collected, retention periods, user rights.
Cookie Policy	Required for any analytics or tracking cookies. Must allow opt-out.
Refund Policy	UK Consumer Rights Act 2015: right to refund for faulty digital services.
Cancellation Policy	Consumer Contracts Regulations 2013: 14-day cooling-off on digital subscriptions.
Acceptable Use Policy	Prevent misuse of the platform for bulk scraping or commercial resale of transcripts.

Note: Legal document templates are available from services such as Rocket Lawyer UK, LawDepot, or a UK solicitor. Budget ~£200–500 for professionally reviewed documents at launch.

Subscription Law (UK)

- Consumer Contracts Regulations 2013 — Customers have a 14-day right to cancel a subscription from sign-up. The free trial structure mitigates this — card is charged only after the trial ends.
- CMA Subscription Guidance (2024) — The Competition and Markets Authority issued new guidance requiring: clear pricing before sign-up, easy cancellation, and reminders before free trials convert to paid.
- Auto-renewal disclosure — Must clearly state that subscriptions auto-renew and how to cancel. Clerk's billing portal handles the cancellation mechanism.
- Refund on cancellation — No legal requirement to pro-rata refund monthly subscriptions, but best practice to do so or offer a grace period.
